

NetDocuments® Welcomes Halak Consulting, LLC as a Consulting Partner to Market and Support NetDocuments' Document & Content Management Solution

Salt Lake City, Utah – July 15, 2010 – NetDocuments®, a full service online document and content management provider has partnered with Halak Consulting, LLC of San Francisco, to extend NetDocuments® marketing, support, and professional services offerings in the legal and financial markets.

Halak Consulting, LLC is focused on providing cutting edge Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) based solutions in the Legal and Financial Industry. Founder and CEO, Deepa Patel, launched Halak Consulting, LLC in 2003 and has gained extensive knowledge in legal and financial industries. Ms. Patel has built a team of consultants to provide exceptional service to you.

NetDocuments® is a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) provider, which currently integrates with several of Halak Consulting, LLC's current offerings, including Salesforce.com® and AdvologixPM™; making the partnership through NetDocuments® Channel Partner Program a logical step for both companies.

"We're thrilled to have Halak Consulting, LLC in our Partner Program family. Ms. Patel can now leverage her legal and financial industry knowledge and expertise by offering her clients a web-hosted document management solution that is both secure and compliant," Said Marriott Murdock, of NetDocuments®. "The integrations with AdvologixPM™, and Salesforce.com® will allow Halak Consulting, LLC to not only provide the services associated with redesigning a firm's IT environment, but to also integrate all three applications into an efficient and cost-effective solution."

"NetDocuments® is an industry leader in online Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) based document management systems" Said Deepa Patel, of Halak Consulting, LLC. "Our partnership with NetDocuments® will empower us to better serve our clients with efficient solutions having a substantial impact on their day to day business processes bringing efficiency."
